Three Suits Against County

Powell County has been made defendant in three law suits. The most important one being a suit brought by Estill county to recover a portion of the railroad bond debt that would have accrued against Hardwick's Creek precinct had it remained part of the mother county.

The status of the case is this: In 1888, Estill county voted $100,000 railroad bonds to the old Richmond, Nicholasville, Irvine and Beattyville Railroad under certain conditions, which conditions were never met, but for some ill advised reason the Fiscal Court extended the time for fulfillment of the conditions and issued the bonds. Succeeding courts refused to pay these bonds, claiming that the preceding court had exceeded its authority in issuing them. The county was sued by bondholders and lost in every suit. So refunding bonds were voted several years ago.

Again certain citizens brought suit to resist payment of tax to pay off the bonds. The citizens lost this suit. The railroad bonds were settled last spring by compromise. Soon after this settlement the attention of the Fiscal Court of Estill was called by Jas. A. Wallace, County Treasurer, to the fact that Hardwick's Creek was a part of Estill when the bonds were voted and volunteered to come to Stanton to endeavor to collect from Powell. The Powell Fiscal Court flatly refused to consider the proposition when presented by Mr. Wallace at the April meeting of the court. Nothing more was heard from it until after the election and Mr. Wallace was elected State Treasurer when the suit was filed.

Judge Benton will represent Powell in the suit and it is not probable that the action will amount to anything.

Noble McDonald has sued the County for certain right-of-way for the new road and for some fencing along the road.

Another suit against the County is that of Alfred Rose for damage for taking gravel from Brush creek along his place. The creek was the old road and the County thought it had the right to the gravel.

One of Clark's Largest Hogs.

G. T. Rowland, of L. & E. Junction, has sold a fat Duroc Jersey hog weighing 1,027 pounds on the hoof to Will Gay at twenty cents a pound. The price was $209.40. Mr. Rowland raised the hog.

Several months ago when visiting Mr. Rowland Mr. Gay was offered the hog at eight cents a pound if it weighed less than 1,000 pounds Nov. 1, or twenty cents if more than that.

This is believed to be one of the largest hogs ever raised in Clark county.—Winchester Sun.

New Bell at Waltersville School

The Waltersville consolidated school, in its march of progress, has recently added a new bell to its equipment. The Principal, Prof. Margison, is ever alert to the needs of the school and its accessories.

High Price For Cattle

Some choice cattle sold in Chicago Tuesday for upwards of 20 cents per pound which is said to be the highest price ever paid for cattle on that market. It is also stated that the price paid did not pay for the cost of making the cattle what they were. Taking all costs into consideration, the shrewdest business like farmers have never yet learned how to pay the present high labor prices for their work and produce meat, bread and dairy products at a profit. When they account for their own labor or the interest on their investment they always come out losers.

Aged Citizen Passes Away

N. R. Thomas, aged 74 years, died Monday morning at the home of his son, R. W. Thomas, near Waltersville with nephritis. Burial Tuesday at Powell's Valley. Mr. Thomas came to Powell from Lee county with his son, R. W. Thomas, with whom he made his home, several years ago, and has made a good citizen since his residence with us. The many friends he has made here deeply sympathize with the surviving family.

Joe Boggs Sued

Joe S. Boggs, Commissioner of Public Roads at Frankfort, has been sued by the Henry County Fiscal Court to compel him to have certain surveys for roads made in that county as is provided by law. It seems that other counties are getting tired of delays as well as Powell. The action of the Department of Public Roads has kept one bridge and considerable road from being built in this county this year.

A Chat With Customers

Mr. Geo. S. Ware, generally known about Clay City as the price wrecker, has a chat with his customers about produce buying in this issue of the Times. Read his ad. then call at his store and lay in a supply of what you need if you have no produce to sell.

You Can Hunt Saturday

The hunting season opens Saturday, but there are very few birds to shoot. Rabbits are abundant this time and they are fat and fine. Quail being so scarce it is bad that their killing cannot be prohibited for the season.

Cheap Corn

Much of the corn that was overflowed is being sold by farmers on account of their being unable to dry it out for want of sheds to spread it. The prevailing price for this corn seems to be $2.50 and $3.00 per barrel.

Hog Killing Time

We are having some nice hog killing weather just now, the first of the season. The scarcity of corn makes it very desirable to butcher the porkers soon as possible.

Phillips--Daniel

Mr. Allen Daniel and Miss Clara Phillips, 21 years each, both of this city, were married in Stanton Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock by the Rev. L. F. Martin. They were accompanied by Misses Pearl Phillips, sister of the bride, Ruth Moore and Alice Hammons; Earl McKinney and Everett Highley. Miss Hammons was bride's-maid while Mr. Highley was best man. The Times, together with a host of other friends, extend congratulations.

Coal Short in Clay City

The coal situation is still unfavorable in effect upon Clay City. There is plenty of fuel but it is all wood and what of that you can get comes high and is not very lasting. Quite a number of cars of coal are due here but they do not reach us. Coal stoves and grates are poor heaters with wood. We can get along very well now with such fuel, but we do not know how we will make out if it later gets as cold as it did two years ago.

Death of Mrs. Patton

Mrs. Mollie Patton died very suddenly Thursday evening at the home of her son-in-law, O. W. Easter, at Waltersville. Burial Sunday at Virdeez. Mrs. Patton was 73 years old, and before marriage was a Miss Clemons. Mrs. Grover Stringer and another sister, daughters of the deceased, were called here from Terre Haute, Ind., to attend the funeral.

Killed by Negroes

English Anderson, one of Montgomery county's leading farmers, was killed Monday on his own premises by two negro tenants who were stripping tobacco. The trouble came up over Anderson protesting against the negroes smoking in the tobacco barn.

Anderson married Miss Bernice Hall of this county, sister to T. C. Hall, of Rosslyn.

Re-opened Meat Market

By reading the advertising columns of The Times you will learn that Mr. H. C. King has re-opened his meat market at the Company store. He temporarily closed his shop to save his corn from the bottoms, which he did with no injury to his crop, he being but one of many that had corn on bottom land and saved it all from the tide.

Buys Farm

Elza Barnett has purchased 100 acres of land from Carter Reynolds two and one-half miles south of Clay City for $1,410.

Circuit Court

Circuit Court will convene at Stanton Monday with Judge W. R. Shuckford presiding. The docket, as usual, will be light.

Town Property for Sale

House and six lots in town of Clay City for sale. For particulars apply at Times office.

Why The Senate is Democratic

Procrastination and a thunder-storm are the contributing causes that keep the Republican party in Kentucky from controlling the State Senate at the coming session, these being responsible for the election without opposition of Allen H. Points, of Salt Lick, in this Senatorial district. Clarence Matthews, of Mayfield, was slated for the Republican Senatorial nomination, but delayed filing his declaration as a candidate until the last day, when he started for Frankfort in an automobile. He was overtaken by a severe storm, which prevented his reaching his destination within the time limit, giving his opponent a clear field.

Had Mr. Matthews been the candidate of his party, he would undoubtedly have been elected, as the Senatorial district went Republican at the recent election. This would have made the upper branch a tie, with the Lieutenant Governor casting the deciding vote and assuring the Republicans control of the committees and makeup of the rules.

This is somewhat gratifying to Powell Democrats, to know that they live in the district that is saved to Democratic representation by an act of providence. And better still to know that the State Senate is thus saved to Democracy.

Married at Ashland

Miss Carrie Belle Berry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Berry, of West Bend, this county, was married in Ashland Wednesday, Nov. 5, at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. H. Overly, to Mr. Simmons Harold, of Charleston, S. C. After a bridal tour of the Southland the happy pair will make their home in Charleston where the groom is engaged in banking and the timber business.

The bride's father, mother and sister, Miss Bernice Berry, of West Bend, and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Pherigo, of this city attended the wedding.

Montgomery County Farm for Sale

In this issue of The Times W. Hoffman Wood, leading real estate agent of Mt. Sterling, is advertising a splendid Montgomery county farm for sale. Scores of Powell county men have purchased Bluegrass land, and many more of them will do so from time to time. If any of the sons of Powell have now the idea of buying a Bluegrass farm, The Times suggests that they do not pass by this farm without investigating its merits and value. See add in this issue for further information.

Right-of-way for Bridge Secured

The right-of-way for the new bridge across Hardwick's Creek at Vaughn's Mill has at last been secured and the bridge will be put in at once. This bridge has been on the ground ready for erection for nearly two years, but there was a hitch in the right-of-way which has caused all of this delay. The bridge here is badly needed, and when it is completed will be a valuable asset to the county's highway up this creek.

In Defense of the Farmer.

The farmer's side of the high cost of living question was presented to the Senate recently by Senator Capper, of Kansas, who declared that, while farmers are selling their products at a loss in declining markets, the consumers are paying rising prices.

Faulty distribution was blamed for this "remarkable spectacle" and the Senator urged a number of remedies to increase production. He deplored the numerous industrial strikes and the small representation given agriculture in the Industrial Conference.

"In our efforts to get rid of the high cost of living disease," said Mr. Capper, "I fear we are in great danger of dying of the remedy. As a result of Washington's effort to reduce high prices by breaking down entirely the cost of food we have the remarkable spectacle of a rise of 1 per cent in the cost of living, coincident with market drops that are putting livestock raisers out of business and causing serious losses to other producers."

Illustrating the anomalous situation of farmers and consumers, Senator Capper said farmers are selling their wheat at a loss, adding:

"It takes four and a half bushels of wheat to make a barrel of flour. The wheat raisers gets about $8.37 for the wheat, the miller $12.70, the baker $58.70 and the hotel keeper here in Washington, as it is doled out in thin slices, $58.70."

"The situation of the livestock farmer is even more deplorable," he said. "Farmers are selling their grain-fed beefs and hogs for less than it cost to produce them, but the consumer finds little or no change in the price of meat."

"Without visibly helping the consumer we have brought about a crisis in our most fundamental and vital industry by forcing the producer to accept the prices at which he can not continue to produce, while he and the consumer are compelled to pay prices at which they are forced to curtail the home demand."

Farmers are being driven out of business and drifting to the cities because of conditions in the agricultural industry, Senator Capper declared. Citing losses sustained by agricultural producers, Senator Capper said the recent decline in livestock prices had cost producers $80,000,000. Livestock growers, he said, do not control the markets and, like other agricultural producers, must accept prices fixed by others.

Farm wages have doubled, land values have risen enormously, and everything the farmer buys, he said, has risen from 50 to 300 per cent.

Among the remedies suggested by Senator Capper were cessation of "Federal Government propaganda which tends to bear down the prices of farm products."

"Executive departments," he said, "should seek by every means at their command to open wider markets to the farmer by lifting the embargo on wheat and wheat flour to Europe, by extending credits to European governments and by lowering ocean freight rates."

Legislation to free the livestock producer of alleged control of the markets by the packers also was urged by Senator Capper.

Delorable Law Suits.

The outlook for road building is somewhat jeopardized in Powell by the filing of so many suits against the county. The action of Estill county in trying to recover an unjust debt is indeed deplorable. Hardwick's Creek precinct, which was a part of Estill when these old railroad bonds were voted, never received a penny's benefit from the railroad, and we learn that but one or two votes were cast in the Hardwick's Creek precinct for these bonds. Nor has the citizens of the precinct ever had any voice in the manipulation of the situation.

These bonds are now paid, and as we are informed, paid from the oil production tax funds. We cannot conceive of any court of justice that would decree that Powell county, or any portion of it, should levy a tax to pay a debt that was already canceled and paid by the mother county without levying a tax on itself. If Hardwick's Creek precinct is obligated to share in this debt, it likewise shares in its liquidation when the mother county settles the debt.

We think it would have been better for these two closely connected counties to have locked arms and worked together for the roads we so badly need instead of lawing with each other and spending good money for lawyer fees and court costs that should go for good roads.

It is also very regrettable that the two other law suits brought against the county are the outgrowth of good road building in the county, and it is a shame.

Two boys aged seven, one nine, and one twelve years, formed a systematic plan and stole fifteen thousand cigarettes from a store-room of the American Tobacco Company at Louisville. Officers found the cigarettes stored away.

Two object lessons may be drawn from this. First that parents should always know where their children of this size are by keeping them at home. Second that cigarettes are so tempting to the young that they cause them to steal in order to get their smokes. Parents cannot be too strict with their boys when it comes to rearing them as they should go. Liberty is not the best thing for children.

One of the chief objections to prohibition a few years ago was that those persons then engaged in the manufacture and sale of liquor and beer would suffer for jobs and that corn would have insufficient market. But it hasn't panned out that way. There is work for all the liquor laborers, and there is a ready market for all the corn. There is left but one excuse now for liquor. That is "we want to drink it."

It is just as easy to satisfy capital and labor at the same time as to settle the Irish question to the satisfaction of Ulster and South Ireland.

It is said you can get liquor in Lexington if you know the pass word. The password is "A little more whiskey, please."

Demand for Rabbit Skins

In recent years several kinds of fur, formerly of so little value as to offer no inducement to the trapper, have been raised in price, and consequently collecting them has been made profitable. Rabbit pelts, which are extensively used by hat makers, are among these products. One eastern concern has announced that it will need 10,000,000 rabbit skins during 1919 and 1920, and it desires as far as possible to secure them from American sources. This is an indication of a market which should interest many a farm boy. This fall and winter dried, eased rabbit skins will probably bring a reasonably good return. They are sold by the pound which will contain seven or eight skins. Many farm boys can readily acquire, in the course of the winter, large numbers of skins which will net them a tidy sum and, in addition, they will have the pleasure of trapping experience. The United States Department of Agriculture will supply any inquirer with the names and addresses of possible purchasers of the rabbit skins and other pelts.

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead For 3 Months.

"I swear it was dead at least 3 months," said James Sykes, Butcher, Westfield, N. J. "We saw this rat every day. Put a snake of RAT-SNAP behind a barrel. Months later my wife asked about the rat. Remembered the barrel, looked behind it. There was the rat—dead, not the slightest odor." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by C. Shimfessel and Eaton & McGuire.

Prevention of Diphtheria

Diphtheria is reported as existing in more than half the counties in Kentucky. It is epidemic in several of them. This is not a cause for senseless alarm but for intelligent action. More than half the 249 deaths which occurred from this disease last year were in children whose parents failed to call a physician during the first three days of the sore throat. The greatest American authority speaking of diphtheria antitoxin says:

"When this remedy is properly used on the first day of the appearance of the membrane in the throat, there are no deaths from diphtheria. When delay in its use extends to the second day, the death rate runs from five to ten per cent; when it extends to the third or fourth day, it runs up to thirty, forty and even fifty per cent."

The following definite suggestions are offered by the State Board of Health to teachers, parents or guardians for the suppression of diphtheria:

When a child has a sore throat it should be excluded from school, kept at home in bed, separated from other children, and the family physician called. This is essential if there are whitish spots in the throat. Specimens should be taken by the physician and examined in approved laboratories or sent to the State Health Laboratories at Lexington or Louisville for free examination. If the case is at all suspicious antitoxin should be administered at once, 5000 units if seen on the first day, and from 7,000 to 10,000 units if seen later. This dose should be repeated in six hours if the membrane is not getting smaller. Antitoxin is furnished by the State Board of Health at greatly reduced prices to physicians and Boards of Health.

Clay City Not Alone

The sugar shortage did not hit Clay City all alone but it has reached every other town in the country. It is quite probable that there is plenty of sugar, but war time experience demonstrated that all of the shortages we had did not diminish the consumption of anything. After a famine the public always buys eagerly enough to make up any deficiency in the average. And they are then willing to pay a much larger price which, of course, makes the profit much greater. The organized monopolies know how to work the public and are just as great enemies of this country as the strikers.
